Art Unit: 2621

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 13-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as not falling within one of the four statutory categories of invention.

Supreme Court precedent¹ and recent Federal Circuit decisions² indicate that a statutory “process” under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to another statutory category (such as a particular apparatus), or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing. For example, as recently underscored by the circuit court, with reference to past Supreme Court decisions:

“[t]he Supreme Court has recognized only two instances in which such a method may qualify as a section 101 process: when the process ‘either [1] was tied to a particular apparatus or [2] operated to change materials to a ‘different state or thing.’” See PTO Supp. Br. 4 (quoting Flook, 437 U.S. at 588n.9). In Diehr, the Supreme Court confirmed that a process reciting an algorithm could be statutory subject matter if it: (1) is tied to a machine or (2) creates or involves a composition of matter or manufacture.¹² 450 U.S. at 184.” (Emphasis added)

In re Comiskey, 84 USPQ2d 1670, 1678. (Fed. Cir. 2007)

While the instant claims 13-24 recite a series of steps or acts to be performed, the claim(s) neither transform underlying subject matter nor positively tie to another statutory category that accomplishes the claimed method steps, and therefore do not qualify as a statutory process. Namely, as currently drafted, the pending claims fail to “tie” any one of the recited steps to disclosed structure. As such, each claim fails to tie the recited method/process to another statutory class. In this regard, it is noted that “structure” that is recited in ones of these claims (e.g., the “VBV” in line 6 of claim 13; the “recording medium in line 7 of claim 14, etc,...) do no perform one of the recited steps and, instead, appear to pertain to pre and/or post processing activities. As such, this recited structure fails to “tie” the recited method to another statutory category.

¹ Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780, 787-88 (1876).
